How Do Men From History Speak To Men Today?

In this five-part series we hope to enrich male spirituality by using the men of the Bible as a starting point for our discussion and reflection. We will explore not only how the ancients speak to us but how we speak to each other. We'll look at how we as men relate across generations, how we speak to our sons.

This is not a bible study but a safe place to foster great fellowship shared through candid conversations about the everyday spiritual challenges that we as men face. All ages of men are welcome and we hope you'll join us.
